

Who is the Wholality Facilitator Training for?

For people who want to coach/teach others, AND for people who do not want to coach, but want to get a deeper embodiment. Why is this so transformational for both seemingly different directions?

Because something truly magical happens when you start to speak about the wholeness, the words find you, you become your own teacher, and it ignites a huge acceleration in your own embodiment.

How? Because where the 4 month embodiment was largely 'passive' learning, this three months facilitator training is 'active' and gives you practical experience of:

- Presenting and co-presenting
- Doing one to ones
- Articulating and explaining the understanding
- Holding space for group work

All this 'active' work, practice and learning expands our capacity to not only articulate the understanding but develops our skill to share/coach/facilitate it.

The benefits of this can never be developed by passive learning (listening to others) but only through active learning.

We did a before and after survey from the last 5 years facilitator trainings and the average confidence to facilitate before the facilitator training was 2/10, after the facilitator training it had, on average, jumped up to 9/10. Why? Because you are not going to feel confident doing something unless you have the experience doing it!

This course gives you the practical experience, and confidence organically arises from having had that 'active' experience

The 4 BIGGEST issues most new coaches have is . . .

1. They do not have the technical skills to run a lucrative business
2. They are not clear on what it is they are sharing
3. They don't feel they can charge money and are scared to be 'seen'
- 4 .They do not have a money generating website

Many newly trained coaches/facilitators/healers have some or all of the above 4 issues. Many have no idea how to get clients, run a business, how to create a social media campaign, or even have a website, and many do not feel 'worthy' to charge money or feel scared to 'be seen.'

Business Masterclasses

This is why on the facilitator training not only do you get the practical experience to increase your confidence and skills in presenting/doing one to ones, but we help you with all the technical skills in creating or expanding a business including:

- How to start a new business via conscious creation
- How to brand yourself and what to change
- How to get clients and increase your tribe
- How to grow a social media following
- How to earn a residual income
- How to develop, grow and organize your mailing list
- How to get your business visible
- How to get great looking audio and video
- How to do a podcast
- How to record Vlogs (video blogs)

To be clear this is not a 'one way fits all' model. Everyone is unique and what will work for one person will not work for another. We help you find YOUR way of showing up in the world and what is right for you; as far as how you promote yourself and you business.

On a personal note I (Rudi) did not get clients from social media campaigns, paid ads or, anything else the 'experts' tell you to do. I followed my gut and it lead me to creating a six figure income with financial and location freedom.

Facilitating Masterclasses

Apart from the technical business help (above) we also give you resources specifically helping you get clear on what it is your are sharing including:

- Getting clarity on what you are teaching/coaching
- Separating what you are teaching from what you are not
- The essence of facilitating/coaching
- Styles of teaching/facilitating
- Listening to clients from our intuitive essence
- Practical demonstration of giving one to ones
- How to create course curriculums
- How to present to different populations
- How to work with different populations
